PORT ROYAL WON COTTON STAKES.

Street's Horse Captured $1,640 Purse at New Orleans at Twenty-Five to One.

MADE RUNAWAY RACE OF IT.

Ed Trotter Annexed Two Races With Lingo and Scorpio-Fuller Landed Hands Across in the Fifth Event.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL.

New Orleans, La., Jan. 23.-Port Royal, at 25 to 1, won the Cotton Selling Stakes, worth $1.640 to the winner, for S. W. Street & Co. Port Royal had a pull in the weights and made a runaway race of it, defeating the favorite, Dereszke, easily by two lengths. Floyd K. and Footlights' Favorite were used up chasing Port Loyal. Dave Gideon's money sent Dereszke to the post favorite. Morning Star was outrun all the way. Exclamation got away badly and failed to cut any figure in the contest. Billy Hueston boosted the winner $200 over his entered selling price

Ed Trotter won two races with Lingo and Scorppio. Lingo beat Sarilla by a lock in the first race. Choice and Our Nuggett set the pace. Lingo and Sarilla both came from away back at the finish, Exapo was beaten a half length for the place.

both came from away back at the finish. Exapo was beaten a half length for the place.

Viserine and Fair Una got away flying in the juvenile scramble. Viserine raced Fair Una clean off her feet and won eased up by four lengths from Pinkie, which got up in time to beat Fair Una for the place by a length. Blaze Duchess came from minth place in the stretch and was only beaten a head for third money.

Scorpio and Dallas beat the gate in the third and set a merry pace into the stretch Dallas was a trifle short and tired at the finish. Scerpio hung gamely and beat the favorite. Ascension, by a half length. Big Ben ran third. He had no excuses and its evidently going back.

Fuller is entitled to all the credit for landing Hands Across in front in the fifth race. Eithes was really the best horse, but Fuller plainly outrode and outfinished Cochran. Loveable displayed great speed and led her field into the stretch by two lengths. She was hardly up to a bruising race in high-class company and weakened hadly in the last sixteenth. Ascension closed stoutly from third place, overhauling The Messenser in the last sixteenth and would have beaten Hands Across with equally as good a rider in the saddle.

Major Mansir should have won the sixtn race. He was defeated by Stonewall in a hard drive. Gannon laid out the race too long with the Major and when he started through every rider took a crack at him. He was shut off twice in the last sixteenth and still got up in time to make Stonewall do his best to win by a half length. Lou Woods beat Vesuvia a head for third money.

PHIL ARCHIBALD WINS HURDLE. Ten-to-One Shot Captures Feature Event at Ascot Park. Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 23.-The hurdle race proved the most interesting event at the Ascot Park track to-day. Phil Archibald, at 19 to 1, proved the winner. Archibald, at 19 to 1, proved the winner. Ceylon fell at the third jump, throwing and severely bruising Peterson, the jockey. Another feature of the race was the poor riding of McMahon on Poorlands and his subsequent suspension for an indefinite period. The Coronado Peach Selling Stakes, with $1.259 added money, was won easily by Haviland, the favorite. Weather fine; track good.

REORGANIZATION OF MISSOURI A. C. President Gardner Says That Meet-ing Assures Success of Scheme.

Fifteen hundred members and friends of members of the Missouri Athletic Club took part in the reorganization meeting which was held between the hours of 2 and 5 p. m. at the clubhouse, Fourth street and Washington avenue, yesterday. The doorkeeper registered each member as he entered.

entered.

President Russell Gardner and several members of the Governor Board of the club received and entertained visitors during the afternoon. Refreshments were served in the gymnasium on the seventh floor to more than 1,000 persons. Manager McLaughlin said that the colinary department was driven to the end of its resources to supply the demand in the divine room.

Over-Night Events Will Be Specialized at New Union Jockey Club. Over-night handicaps will be the attraction at the new Union race course this year, according to Captain Carmody, manager of the course. While the list of stakes announced previously will be run, the features of the meeting will be the purses hung up as main events from day to day.

This is to furnish attractions for high-class horses throughout. Speaking of the matter, the Captain said:

"We believe that good horses will be only too glad to leave the larger tracks of the East and come here if they are assured of sufficiently large purses each day. Now, we will give $500 purses at this meet and will hang up at least one $800 purse each day. We will make this last the feature.

"Instead of issuing a stable book and asking advance money from horsemen, our stakes will be opened a short time before they are scheduled to be run. This will be more convenient for all parties. We will hang up handicaps in the interim which will attract high-class horses.

"These $1,500 stakes will be more in the form of handicaps with small entrance fees. These entrance fees will be added to the purse, of course."

"Last night I received more telegrams from horsemen anxious to come here. The Board of Directors of this track has decided to increase the stabling room and will have 400 additional stalls constructed immediately."

ASSOCIATION FOOTBALL NOTES.

The race in the socker game this year is developing into one of fascinating in-terest. A team leads one week only to be humiliated and hurled from the heights by a tall-end possibility the next week, and from present indications this pleas-ant uncertainty will prevail for the rest of the senson ant uncertainty will prevail for the rest of the season.

At present the Rawlingses, with Daly, Reed. "Big Robble" and Scott carrying the banner, are in the lead, but before the sun sets to-night their position may be shifted and another team may proudly boast of leadership.

In second position the Spaldings look secure, but the ambitious Comerford and the nervous Tully are sure they will not finish worse than first at the end of the present season.

Of course, they may be wrong, but their confidence is commendable.

Tom Finnegan's bunch are shining in the rear, with little possibility of getting out of that position, still the handsome Tom believes that victory will eventually crown his efforts.

Last year few would have predicted such a disastrous season for the Kerns as the Tribe of Kavanaugh are experiencing just now, but such are the fortunes of war and football, which is the same thing, especially in the association league. Unless the Kerns get a move on themselves they will not finish better than third.

present crop of football players furnish but a poor comparison to the stars of a half dozen years ago. At that time St. Louis could boast of the best socker teams in the country. Canada sent its cracks here to beat the local players, but they went back without accomplishing their purpose. If any of the Canadian teams should take a notion to come down and play the pick of the present lot the result would be something awful to contemplate. None but an expert Chinese accountant with a celestial counting board could ever keep track of the score. A player like Govier, when Govier was at his best, would score ten or tweive goals against the present lot of backs. Barring few exceptions. St. Louis never had such weak defensive teams. On the offense they are little better. The same players who were stars ten years ago are still stars. Barring Scott of the Kerns and Devaney of the Spaldinge, no new players of note have entered the game in the last two years. time St. Louis could boast of the best

One player who retains his form despite the fact that he has taken on much super-fluous flesh is "Jimmy" Daly. That fa-mous forward is almost as good as he ever was. His speed has decreased some during the last year, but he is still an ef-fective shot and a good aggressive player. The poor showing of the Kerns this year can be charged in a large measure to their forward line. Barring Phil Kavanaugh and Arthur Granville, the rest make a sorry showing. Comerford and Ammans are undoubtedly the best in the city at present. They are fast on their feet, furious shots and clever dribblers. Ammans, however, has a tend-ency to do too much useless talking, and this hurts his playing.

The Baker brothers, Hundley and Grover, are rooters who should be adorned with the thirty-third degree medal. Rain or shine, they are found at the games, and no matter how bad Finnegan's Leacocks are being trimmed, they keep up encour-aging the youngsters.

dent of Victory Over Attell. Harry Forbes reached the city yesterday in readiness for his bout with Abe Attell

Harry Forbes reached the city yesterday in readiness for his bout with Abe Attell and is quartered at the Rozier Hotel. Harry will continue training at the Business Men's Gymnasium to-day, and states that he is aiready in great trim for the battle.

Forbes expects to win on this occasion and does not hesitate to say so.

"Ten rounds is in favor of Attell," he stated yesterday, "and a longer route will put things my way. I can reach him then when it is harder to reach him in a short bout. We hear a good deal in the papers about the way he was landing on me at the close. Now, he never landed hardenough to disturb me.

"Attell can hit going away. He must be conceded this. He is able to land a blow all the time he is going back as fast as he can. He sprinted around that ring faster than I ever saw a man move backward, and he managed to get in jabs in spite of it.

"He never had me swaying. All he could do was to make me jerk my head, the punches came in so unexpectedly. For ten rounds he was able to run around rapidly, but he was tiring at the close. He won't be able to run that fast for twenty rounds,

"He can't hurt me with both hands. I can knock him out with either. And in the long route I am going to win."

Clarence Forbes, who is now in Kansas City, will likely be here this morning to meet the wirner of the Sullivan-Keefe preliminary. The winner of the main event, in case Harry is returned the vicor, will be sent against Johnny Regan.
